TERMS & CONDITIONS

1. Scope of Responsibilities

The definitions below apply to these terms and conditions:

- "Application Form" refers to the completed 4-page application for exhibition participation.
- "Contract" refers to the regulations for exhibition participation signed by the exhibitor with the organizer or business representative upon application, in accordance with these terms.
- "Exhibition" refers to the events specified in this application form, including online, offline, and related marketing activities.
- "Exhibition Venue" refers to the center or other locations chosen by the organizer as specified in Section 3.
- "Venue Operator" refers to the current owner or operator of the exhibition venue.
- "Exhibition Space" refers to the space granted by the organizer to the exhibitor for displays, including standard booths and raw space areas.
- "Exhibitor" refers to the entity or individual designated on the application form, along with all employees, who must complete registration for security and health measures before the event.
- "Exhibitor Manual" refers to the handbook issued by the organizer or authorized parties, containing relevant exhibition information.
- "Fees" refer to the costs payable for the rental of exhibition space or for advertising and promotional services.
- "Organizer" refers to the entity responsible for organizing or implementing the exhibition, as stated in the application form.
- "Regulations and Rules" refer to the policies established by the venue operator, applicable to exhibitors and other attendees.

1.1 The organizer reserves the right to interpret and enforce whether exhibitor conduct complies with these regulations during the exhibition, without contest.

2. Application for Exhibition

All applications for participation must be submitted via scanned electronic forms. The application form must include a non-refundable, non-transferable deposit payable in full. The organizer reserves the right to accept or reject any application. Applications accepted by other methods are subject to these terms, and exhibitors must complete and submit an application form upon request. Exhibitors are required to cooperate with the organizer by providing any necessary and reasonable information. Any exhibitor who cancels or reduces reserved exhibition space will not receive a refund. Submission of payment does not guarantee acceptance until a booth location is allocated, or a written confirmation is provided by the organizer.

2.1. By completing registration, exhibitors acknowledge they have fully read, understood, and unconditionally agreed to comply with these terms, authorizing the organizer to use their provided information for the "Official Directory."

3. Exhibition Space Authorization and Allocation

3.1. Exhibitors may not transfer or share their exhibition space with others without prior written consent from the organizer. Exhibitors are responsible for ensuring that any authorized individuals admitted to the venue adhere to these terms and conditions. The organizer reserves the right to revoke an exhibitor's authorization and participation privileges without refund in cases of unauthorized booth subletting.

3.2. If an exhibitor wishes to display a name other than the one listed on the application form, the change request must be submitted with supporting documentation (e.g., company registration for a name change or other relevant proof) at least three months before the exhibition begins. The organizer reserves the right to assign exhibition space as deemed appropriate, considering factors such as application order and the nature of the exhibitor's business.

3.3. The organizer reserves the right to adjust the exhibition location, hours, duration, layout, and booth size, as well as entrance and exit access, and make necessary modifications to the space. Standard booths must conform to organizer standards and may not be altered without written consent from the organizer or the authorized official contractor. Exhibitors using raw space must submit design plans for approval according to the specified schedule. Booth services will be arranged according to the exhibitor manual.

3.4. The organizer reserves the right to request modifications or removal of non-compliant booths at the exhibitor's expense, without refund. If modifications are not completed within the specified time, the organizer may enforce changes at the exhibitor's risk and cost, including any expenses incurred.

4. Exhibit Items

4.1. Exhibits may not enter or exit the venue without proper transport authorization or passes. Exhibitors are responsible for the transportation, storage, and customs clearance of their exhibits at their own cost. Written approval is required for any operational or mobile exhibits, and exhibitors must take precautions to protect the public from potential hazards.

4.2. Exhibits and booth equipment must remain within the allocated space. Dangerous items, as defined by applicable laws, are not permitted. Promotional activities outside the designated booth area are prohibited.

4.3. Exhibitors may not display counterfeit or infringing items. Exhibitors are fully liable for any losses resulting from display issues, including legal, civil, and financial responsibility.

4.4. Exhibitors must clear all items from the space upon conclusion. Items left beyond the specified time may be disposed of by the organizer at the exhibitor's expense. No items may be removed before the exhibition closes.

4.5. Booths must remain clear of fire equipment, power boxes, and air detectors. No open flames are permitted. For safety, persons under 12 are generally prohibited from entry unless specified otherwise.

5. Payment Terms

If the organizer issues payment notifications or offers discounts, exhibitors must comply with the administrative guidelines and timelines. The organizer retains the right to alter acceptance conditions or distribution of subsidies. Unpaid fees may incur interest, calculated daily at 4% over the HSBC (Taiwan) base lending rate.

6. Code of Conduct

Exhibitors are accountable for the conduct of their representatives, who must observe these terms. Details of exhibition events will be provided in the exhibitor manual or through other notifications.

Exhibitors must ensure: (a) a responsible representative is present, (b) exhibits are operational and display-ready, and (c) personnel are professional. Exhibitors must designate a person in charge who can be contacted by the organizer during the event.

6.1. The organizer reserves the right to deny admission to competing event organizers and related entities. Unregistered exhibitors will be dismissed without refund.

7. Additional Obligations

7.1. Both parties agree to protect confidential information received, excluding public domain information, and to use such information solely in connection with the exhibition.

7.2. Exhibitors consent to the use of their personal information by the organizer per Section 12.

7.3. Brand Use: Exhibitors may use the organizer's brand strictly for promotion of their exhibition participation during the contracted period. Similarly, the organizer may use the exhibitor's brand for exhibition promotion.

8. Insurance

The organizer provides public liability insurance. Exhibitors must comply with additional insurance requirements if mandated by authorities. Exhibitors must ensure valid insurance covering specific risks before entering the venue. Exhibitors are responsible for insuring their exhibits and decorations against theft, fire, and water damage for the exhibition period.

9. Postponement and Cancellation

The organizer reserves the right to postpone or cancel the exhibition for various reasons, such as natural disasters, legal restrictions, or other unforeseen events, without incurring liability.

10. Termination

The organizer may terminate the contract if: (a) the exhibition is canceled; (b) exhibitor space is misused; (c) payment is overdue; (d) insurance requirements are unmet; or (e) the exhibitor breaches any part of the contract. Upon termination, space allocation is canceled without refund, and the organizer may claim damages.

11. Liability, Compensation, and Refund

Exhibitors participate at their own risk. Exhibitors agree to indemnify the organizer for any claims resulting from breaches of the contract. The organizer is not responsible for any indirect or direct losses related to theft, fire, or cancellation due to circumstances beyond its control.

12. Privacy Policy

The organizer values privacy and adheres to applicable data protection laws. Exhibitors are responsible for ensuring that their representatives have read and agreed to the policy.

13. General Provisions

Exhibitors may not assign rights or obligations without approval. Notices must be sent in writing and will be considered delivered according to specified methods.

14. Governing Law / Dispute Resolution

This contract is governed by Taiwan (R.O.C.) law. Disputes may be submitted to Taiwan's courts for resolution.

15. Additional Provisions

The organizer reserves the right to issue supplemental rules to ensure smooth management of the exhibition. Any written additional rules will be binding on exhibitors.

The return of this signed application form constitutes a legally binding participation of the signing company, hereto forth the exhibitor in the event. I agree to have read and accepted the enclosed General Regulations for 2025 Taiwan International Tools Expo x International Hardware Expo Taiwan.
